Steady & Balanced

A balanced life is not the same thing as a life where everything goes smoothly. It is a life anchored in Christ, steady enough to face good days and hard days without falling apart. Most of us know what it feels like to get pulled off center. Stress rises, patience runs thin, and we start reacting instead of thinking. We can try to manage those moments with sheer willpower, but lasting change comes from a heart that is being shaped by the Lord, and there is no quick fix for this. Scripture reminds us that this kind of stability is possible. James tells us to "let patience have its perfect work" so that we can become mature and complete (James 1:2-4 NKJV). Paul added, "...and the peace of God, which surpasses all understanding, will guard your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus" (Philippians 4:6-7). Those are not empty slogans. They are promises about what God can produce in a person who keeps turning to God. This is how spiritual balance works in real life. It's seen in the choices we make every day. "He who is slow to anger is better than the mighty, And he who rules his spirit than he who takes a city" (Proverbs 16:32). True strength isn't just about what you have the ability to do or to achieve. It's about what you can control inside. It also means choosing not to let your words hurt others. "Let no corrupt word proceed out of your mouth, but what is good for necessary edification, that it may impart grace to the hearers" (Ephesians 4:29). That takes discipline, and it shows love. If you're looking for a simple goal this week, pay attention to how you respond to things. Pray before you speak a word you'll regret. Listen before you jump to conclusions. Choose patience, even when you feel angry (and even justified in your anger). As we follow Christ, God isn't just showing us what's right, but He's shaping us to live it out daily.

-Tony Clay

Worship service will be live streamed live every Sunday morning at 10:30 on <https://www.facebook.com/Columbianachurchofchrist/> and on the website www.columbianachurchofchrist.org.
